

Bio – Rob Bryce

An owner of an IT consulting company out of Ottawa, Rob solves problems for businesses who need an outside perspective. When he's not teaching his two daughters archery and kayaking, he's relaxing on the dock with his wife Heather. Rob's a second generation owner on Rocky Point Road, growing up on Golden Lake in the summers, and is now sharing his love of the lake with a third generation. Rob is volunteering to learn more about this place he calls home, and to contribute to the growth of the community.

Bio – Janet Cottreau

Janet has spent part of every summer on Golden Lake since 1980 attending Red Pine Camp. She loves the outdoors and spends as much time as possible outdoors canoe tripping, camping and working in her vegetable gardens in the warmer months and XC and downhill skiing in the winter. Janet is the proud mother of a nine year old daughter and three step-sons who are in their 20s and loves when they are all around so she can cook for a larger crew (she loves to cook).

Janet grew up in Ottawa and north of Toronto. She got her MA in Child Studies and Education from U of T and was a teacher in Toronto before she met her husband, Peter, while working as the summer Camp Coordinator at Red Pine Camp in 2007. Janet moved to Ottawa in 2008 and has become more and more involved with the camp ever since. She worked part time developing the rental business for the camp and was part of the team who started the one-week teen leadership camp (RPLC) that runs at the end of August. In 2018 RPC decided to transition the running of camp from a team of volunteers to a full-time position and Janet has been the Executive Camp Director of Red Pine since December of 2018.

Janet is honoured to be invited to be a member of the GLPOA Board and looks forward to working together with the Golden Lake Community and strengthening the ties that exist between the camp and its neighbours.

Bio – Tara Wallace

Tara was born and raised in the Ottawa Valley growing up in the small village of Micksburg. She attended St. Lawrence College in Kingston graduating with her diploma in Business Administration – Human Resources.

Following graduation she moved back to the Valley and worked for multiple businesses and restaurants. You may know her from her time at the Sands on Golden Lake. She also worked in insurance for 10 years acquiring her Canadian Accredited Insurance

Broker designation. She is currently with Canada Post looking for opportunities in the Human Resources field.

She spends as much time as she can at the trailer with her husband at his parents' property on Tramore Road on the Bonnechere River. She loves the outdoors and thoroughly enjoys the beautiful nature of the river and the lake.

Tara is extremely honoured to be a part of the GLPOA family and is excited to co-chair the membership committee in the upcoming year.
